

Great Expectations

CHARLES DICKENS

Collector's Library

Complete & Unabridged

ILLUSTRATIONS

Pip leaves the village	2
Miss Havershams	7
The terrible stranger in the churchyard	11
Mrs Joe returning from an expedition	71
A stranger at the Three Jolly Bargemen	103
I present Joe to Miss Havershams	135
Ill used	173
Mr Jaggers and his clients	223
The guileless confectioner	227
'Here's Mr Pip, aged parent,' said Wemmick.	277
Trabb's boy	327
The flaying of Hamlet	337
'Now, Aged Parent, tip us the paper.'	395
I took up my reading-lamp and went out to the stairhead	417
Shoulder to shoulder	469
'Here's old Bill Barley, bless your eyes.'	497
Confidential with Mr Jaggers	539
Old Orlick means murder	557
Boundless confidence	581
The arrest	611
The old place by the kitchen firelight	637